CENTRE FOR CRIMINOLOGY AND VICTIMOLOGY (“CCV”)

The Centre for Criminology and Victimology at National Law University Delhi has been set up with the objective of promoting research, training, policy analysis and consultancy in the field of Criminal Justice, Criminal Law, Criminology and Victimology. The Centre is engaged in several research projects including wrongful prosecution; victim and prosecution. The Centre regularly conducts workshops, seminars, training programmes, conferences and symposiums on the above-mentioned subject areas.

SCHEME OF THE INTERNSHIP PROGRAMMES

We look forward to welcoming a diverse group of in-person and virtual interns, with a strong preference for those who can join us on campus to take full advantage of the collaborative and immersive environment at NLU Delhi.

- 1. Short-Term Internship Programme: Short-term interns will spend at least one month at the Centre assisting in ongoing research projects.
- 2. Long-Term Internship Programme: This three-month to one-year internship is for those seeking comprehensive experience. Their contributions would include policy analysis and consultancy, independent research, policy briefs, stakeholder engagement, academic publications, and leadership roles in event organisation and facilitation within the scope of CCV.
- 3. Faculty-Research Internship Programme: This internship invites interns to work closely with faculty on ongoing research projects for at least two months. It allows for deeper engagement in research, training, and consultancy activities with the Faculty Members at the Centre.
- 4. Multidisciplinary Innovators Internship Programme:

4.1. Allied Disciplines

This internship is open to applicants from social science disciplines. The internship offers them a unique opportunity to blend their academic pursuits with hands-on experience in a setting that values creativity, innovation, and interdisciplinary collaboration.

Eligibility Criteria

- Are currently enrolled in or have recently graduated from social sciences undergraduate or graduate programmes.
- Are looking for an opportunity to apply their academic knowledge in a practical, real-world setting.
- Demonstrate strong communication, teamwork, and project management skills.

4.2. Digital Media and Event Management

Parallelly, the programme actively seeks interns with a passion and aptitude for digital platforms and event coordination, encompassing website development, social media management, YouTube content creation, and event planning. Interns will work with the respective team they have applied for i.e. social media or event management.

Eligibility Criteria:

- Are currently enrolled in or have recently graduated from any undergraduate or graduate program. Candidates from Mass Communication, English Honours and Media backgrounds are encouraged to apply.
- Possess a keen interest in social media, content creation or event management.
- Demonstrate strong communication, teamwork, and project management skills.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Contribution in ongoing research projects, assisting in data collection, empirical and doctrinal analysis, and report writing under the guidance of experienced researchers and undertaking necessary administrative tasks.
- Support organising workshops, seminars, and training programs, including logistical arrangements, participant coordination, and documentation.
- Engagement in policy analysis initiatives.
- Skill development opportunities, including training sessions, mentorship, and hands-on learning experiences tailored to interns' interests and career aspirations
- Improving our communication strategies, using websites, social media, print and electronic media.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA(S)

- All these criterias are applicable on all the internship programmes except multidisciplinary innovators internship programme. The eligibility criteria for that programme are mentioned in the programme scheme itself.
- The internship is open to undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral students (India and other countries) in law, criminology, social sciences, or related fields.
- Students must have completed two years of the five-year integrated LL.B. Programme/ one year of a three year LL.B. Programme. Preference will be given to the students who have studied and completed the criminal law coursework in their LL.B. Programme.
- Applicants should have a strong academic record, excellent research and writing skills, and a keen interest in criminology and victimology.
- Previous research experience, while not mandatory, will be considered an advantage.
