

JNLUD EDITORIAL TEAM

PROF. (DR.) ROOPA MADHAV, MANAGING EDITOR

Dr. Roopa Madhav holds a PhD in Law from SOAS, University of London, an LL.M (Public Service Lawyering) from New York University and a B.A.LLB (Hons) from National Law School of India University, Bangalore. She has extensively worked on water development policies and law reform projects during her research fellowship at the International Environmental Law Research Centre, her membership of two working groups of the 12th Planning Commission and a sub-group under the Planning Commission set up to draft a model bill for a State Water Regulatory System. She has worked as the co-editor of Water Law for the Twenty-First Century – National and International Aspects of Water Law Reform in India, Abingdon: Routledge, 2009 and Water Governance in Motion: Towards Socially and Environmentally Sustainable Water Laws 2010, New Delhi: Cambridge. She is presently an editorial board member of the Law, Environment and Development (LEAD) Journal - a joint publication of SOAS–University of London and International Environmental Law Research Centre, Geneva. Her research interests include environmental law, regulatory governance, labour law and human rights.

DR. MUKUL RAIZADA, SENIOR EDITOR

Dr. Mukul Raizada completed his LL.M (Criminal Law) from M.D. University and obtained his PhD in law from National Law University, Delhi. He started his career as a Research Officer of the Indian Institute of Comparative Studies, Jaipur, where he assisted the Indian Socio-Legal Journal, after which he worked as an advocate in Delhi for five years. During his career as an academician, he has participated in several national and international workshops, and has published several papers in reputed national and international law journals. Presently, he is coordinating and teaching criminal law courses to CRPF and Delhi Police officers, apart from teaching criminal law, criminal procedure, and criminal justice administration to undergraduate and post-graduate students. His academic and research interests are in the fields of criminal law, criminal justice administration, victimology, and legal education.

DR. MONIKA NEGI, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Dr. Monika Negi obtained her legal education from the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi, from where she completed her PhD in 2017. As a PhD scholar, she assisted on a book on the law of trademarks (authored by Prof. Ashwani Kumar Bansal, the then Dean of Faculty of Law, University of Delhi, and published by Thomson Reuters). In 2018, she was appointed as the India country expert in international law at the Conference on Teaching and Research in International Law, hosted by the National University of Singapore. Then in 2021, she was selected as the co-author for the first-ever open access book on public international law, titled Open Rewi, published by Open Legal Science. Her areas of interest are history and theory of international law, sanctions in international law, law of the sea, history and theory of international trade law, global value chains in international trade, intersection between trade, environment and development under international trade.

DR. DAKSHINA CHANDRA, ASSISTANT EDITOR

Dr. Dakshina Chandra holds a B.A.LL.B (Hons) degree from NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad, LL.M. (Corporations Law) from New York University Law School, and a PhD in Law from Deakin University School of Law, Australia. Her doctoral thesis focussed on removal of entry and practice barriers to encourage innovation and on required educational reforms to bolster innovation in legal services delivery. She has previously worked as a Fellow at the Regulatory Governance Project, NLSIU, Bangalore where she conducted research on regulatory governance, law and technology policy. She has also worked as an Associate Lecturer (Law) at Deakin Law School, Australia where she chaired and lectured several bachelor and master's level law courses. Her areas of interest include regulatory governance, law and technology, legal education, history of the legal profession, professional regulation and legal ethics and administrative law.

DR. PRIYA RAI, ADMINISTRATIVE EDITOR

Dr. Priya Rai is presently serving as Head, Justice T.P.S. Chawla Library at National Law University Delhi. Prior to National Law University Delhi, she has vast experience serving many premier universities and research institutions, like the Indian Law Institute and Library, Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University. In 2012, Dr. Rai was conferred with Bitner Research Fellowship from Cornell University Law Library (USA) and the FCIL Schaffer Grant by the American Association of Law Libraries. She was conferred visiting Fellowship in Law Librarianship by the Institute of Advanced Legal Studies (IALS), the University of London in 2013 and was invited as Research Fellow at the University of Passau, Germany. She is currently the President of the Association of Indian Law Libraries (AILL). Her areas of interest include copyright laws, digital rights management, intellectual property rights, plagiarism, and open access movements.

DR. AKASH SINGH, ADMINISTRATIVE EDITOR

Dr. Akash obtained his bachelor's degree (B.Com) from the University of Delhi, M.A.(Public Administration), LL.B from Meerut University, M.Phil (Library & Information Sciences), PGDLAN from IGNOU, and doctorate from Vikram University, Ujjain. He is presently working as Assistant Librarian with National Law University, Delhi. Prior to his association with NLU Delhi, he has worked with Indian Law Institute, Kendra Vidyalaya, and IITM Delhi. He was awarded international bursaries to attend the Annual Course of International Law from the International Association of Law Libraries in Barcelona, Spain in 2013. In 2019, he was awarded the Best Young Law Librarian Award instituted by Manupatra and the Association of Indian Law Libraries. His research interest areas are library automation, networking, web-based information resources, and open access initiatives.