

LL.M. with Dual Specialisation

COURSE STRUCTURE

A. Compulsory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each)

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Each student will choose his/her stream of Optional and will be enrolled in the Optional papers offered in that stream. Students who opt for the Business Law Stream are required to choose 6 papers from the list of papers on offer in that stream.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

STREAMS

The following Stream options are being offered to students. Papers under each stream is indicated.

1. Constitutional Law and Environmental Law

- a. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester I)
- b. International Environmental Law and Policy (Semester I)
- c. Comparative Law (Semester II)
- d. Constitutional Theory (Semester II)
- e. Climate Change and Sustainable Development (Semester II)
- f. Indian Environmental Law and Policy (Semester II)

2. Constitutional Law and Criminal Law

- a. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester I)
- a. Principles of Criminal Law and Contemporary Issues (Semester I)
- b. Comparative Law (Semester II)
- c. Constitutional Theory (Semester II)
- d. Advanced Criminal Procedure (Semester II)
- e. Advanced Evidence Law (Semester II)

3. Constitutional Law, Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

- a. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester I)
- b. International Human Rights Law (Semester I)
- c. Comparative Law (Semester II)
- d. Constitutional Theory (Semester II)
- e. International Humanitarian Law (Semester II)
- f. International Refugee Law (Semester II)

4. Constitutional Law and Personal Laws

- a. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester I)
- b. Marriage, Divorce, Adoption and Guardianship under Personal Laws in India (Semester I)
- c. Succession under Personal Laws (Semester II)
- d. Constitutional Claims and Sociological Perspectives of Personal Law (Semester II)
- e. Constitutional Theory (Semester II)
- f. Comparative Family Law (Semester II)

5. Business Laws (Choose any two from papers listed for Semester I and Any four papers from papers listed for semester II)

- a. International Taxation (Semester I)
- b. Comparative Patent Law (Semester I)
- c. Regulatory Governance (Semester I)
- d. Law and Practice of Finance (Semester I)
- e. Mergers and Acquisitions (Semester II)
- f. Comparative Copyright Law (Semester II)
- g. Advanced Corporate Law (Semester II)
- h. Corporate Insolvency Law and Practice (Semester II)
- i. Advanced Competition Law (Semester II)
- j. International Arbitration Law and Practice (Semester-II)
- k. International Intellectual Property Law (Semester II)

LL.M. (Flexible Dual Specialisation)

COURSE STRUCTURE

A. Compulsory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each):

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: The students will be allowed to choose three optional papers from two different Specialization Streams of their choice, being offered by the University.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

STREAMS

The following Stream options are being offered to students. Papers under each stream is indicated.

1. Constitutional Law

- a. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester I)
- b. Constitutional Theory (Semester II)
- c. Comparative Law (Semester II)

2. Environmental Law

- a. International Environmental Law and Policy (Semester I)
- b. Climate Change and Sustainable Development (Semester II)
- c. Indian Environmental Law and Policy (Semester II)

3. Criminal Law

- a. Principles of Criminal Law and Contemporary Issues (Semester I)
- b. Advanced Criminal Procedure (Semester II)
- c. Advanced Evidence Law (Semester II)

4. Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

- a. International Human Rights Law (Semester I)
- b. International Humanitarian Law (Semester II)
- c. International Refugee Law (Semester II)

5. Personal Laws

- a. Marriage, Divorce, Adoption and Guardianship under Personal Laws in India (Semester I)
- b. Succession under Personal Laws (Semester II)
- c. Constitutional Claims and Sociological Perspectives of Personal Law (Semester II)
- d. Comparative Family Law (Semester II)

6. Business Laws

- a. International Taxation (Semester I)
- b. Comparative Patent Law (Semester I)
- c. Regulatory Governance (Semester I)
- d. Law and Practice of Finance (Semester I)
- e. Mergers and Acquisitions (Semester II)
- f. Comparative Copyright Law (Semester II)
- g. Advanced Corporate Law (Semester II)
- h. Corporate Insolvency Law and Practice (Semester II)
- i. Advanced Competition Law (Semester II)
- j. International Arbitration Law and Practice (Semester-II)
- k. International Intellectual Property Law (Semester II)

LL.M. in Public Law

COURSE STRUCTURE

A. Compulsory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each) :

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Students are free to choose any six optional papers from the subject which are offered by the University subject to the requirement of minimum number of students per paper.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

OPTIONAL PAPERS

The following papers are being offered to students in:

Semester I (The students may choose any two papers)

- a. Principles of Criminal Law & Contemporary Issues (Semester-I)
- b. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester-I)
- c. Advanced Environmental Law (Semester-I)
- d. International Human Rights Law (Semester-I)
- e. Marriage, Divorce, Adoption and Guardianship under Personal Laws in India (Semester I)

Semester II (The students may choose any four papers)

- a. Comparative Law (Semester-II)
- b. Advanced Criminal Law (Semester-II)
- c. Business and Human Rights (Semester-II)
- d. Advanced Evidence Law (Semester-II)
- e. Constitutional Theory and Judicial Process (Semester-II)
- f. International Humanitarian Law (Semester-II)
- g. International Refugee Law (Semester-II)
- h. Constitutional Claim and Sociological Perspective of Personal Laws (Semester-II)
- i. Disability Law and Policy in India: Contemporary Issues and Challenges (Semester-II)
- j. Succession under Personal Laws (Semester II)

- k. Constitutional Claims and Sociological Perspectives of Personal Law (Semester II)
- l. Comparative Family Law (Semester II)

LL.M. in Private and Commercial Law

COURSE STRUCTURE

A. Compulsory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each):

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Students are free to choose any six optional papers from the subject which are offered by the University subject to the requirement of minimum number of students per paper.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

OPTIONAL PAPERS

The following papers are being offered to students in:

Semester I (The students may choose any two papers)

- a. Regulatory Governance (Semester-I)
- b. International Taxation (Semester-I)
- c. Law and Practice of Finance (Semester-I)
- d. Comparative Patent Law (Semester-I)
- e. Marriage, Divorce, Adoption and Guardianship under Personal Laws in India (Semester I)

Semester II (The students may choose any four papers)

- f. Private International Law/Conflict of Laws (Semester-II)
- g. Insolvency Regulation-Economics Laws Regulations Practice (Semester-II)
- h. International Arbitration Law and Practice (Semester-II)
- i. Mediation & Negotiation in International Disputes (Semester-II)
- j. Online Dispute Resolution (Semester-II)
- k. Competition Law in Digital Markets: Scrutinizing the Issues, Regulations and Solutions (Semester-II)
- l. Mergers and Acquisitions (Semester-II)
- m. Commercial Contracts and Business Ethics (Semester-II)
- n. International Intellectual Property Law (Semester-II)
- o. Succession under Personal Laws (Semester II)
- p. Constitutional Claims and Sociological Perspectives of Personal Law (Semester II)

q. Comparative Family Law (Semester II)

LL.M. (General)

COURSE STRUCTURE

A. Compulsory Papers (3 credits each)

1. Research Methodology (Semester I)
2. Comparative Public Law (Semester I)
3. Law and Justice in a Globalizing World (Semester I)

B. Optional Papers (2 credits each):

1. Optional Paper 1 (Semester I)
2. Optional Paper 2 (Semester I)
3. Optional Paper 3 (Semester II)
4. Optional Paper 4 (Semester II)
5. Optional Paper 5 (Semester II)
6. Optional Paper 6 (Semester II)

Note: Students are free to choose any six optional papers from the subject which are offered by the University subject to the requirement of minimum number of students per paper.

C. Dissertation (3 credits)

Each student will write a dissertation under the guidance of a faculty member on a topic related to the student's stream of study.

OPTIONAL PAPERS

The following papers are being offered to students in:

Semester I (The students may choose any two papers)

- a. Advanced Constitutional Law (Semester I)
- b. International Environmental Law and Policy (Semester I)
- c. Principles of Criminal Law and Contemporary Issues (Semester I)
- d. International Human Rights Law (Semester I)
- e. Regulatory Governance (Semester-I)
- f. International Taxation (Semester-I)
- g. Law and Practice of Finance (Semester-I)
- h. Comparative Patent Law (Semester-I)
- i. Marriage, Divorce, Adoption and Guardianship under Personal Laws in India (Semester I)

Semester II (The students may choose any four papers)

- a. Comparative Law (Semester II)
- b. Constitutional Theory (Semester II)
- c. Climate Change and Sustainable Development (Semester II)
- d. Indian Environmental Law and Policy (Semester II)
- e. Advanced Criminal Procedure (Semester II)
- f. Advanced Evidence Law (Semester II)
- g. International Humanitarian Law (Semester II)
- h. International Refugee Law (Semester II)

- i. Private International Law/Conflict of Laws (Semester-II)
- j. Insolvency Regulation-Economics Laws Regulations Practice (Semester-II)
- k. International Arbitration Law and Practice (Semester-II)
- l. Business and Human Rights (Semester-II)
- m. Mediation & Negotiation in International Disputes (Semester-II)
- n. Online Dispute Resolution (Semester-II)
- o. Competition Law in Digital Markets: Scrutinizing the Issues, Regulations and Solutions (Semester-II)
- p. Mergers and Acquisitions (Semester-II)
- q. Commercial Contracts and Business Ethics (Semester-II)
- r. International Intellectual Property Law (Semester-II)
- s. Succession under Personal Laws (Semester II)
- t. Constitutional Claims and Sociological Perspectives of Personal Law (Semester II)
- u. Comparative Family Law (Semester II)

The Course Outlines for all the papers being offered this academic year will be sent by email. Students are encouraged to speak to faculty members teaching papers in their stream of choice so as to make an informed decision on stream selection.

Once a student has chosen a particular stream, s/he will not have the option of changing the stream. Therefore, students are advised to make this decision after careful thought and deliberation. A stream will be offered only if at least 10 students opt for it.

Note: Classes for the Mandatory Courses will commence from 2nd September, 2022. The streams selected by the students have to be communicated to llmexamination@nludelhi.ac.in on or before 4th September, 2022 before 4 pm. Classes for the optional papers will commence from 12th September, 2022.
