RECRUITMENT 2019

॥ न्यायस्तत्र प्रमाणं स्यात् ॥

The logo of National Law University, Delhi is composed of 3 elements: N (N), L (L) and U (U) which are interlinked by the second element (L or Law). In its totality it represents the harmonious confluence of disparate elements (disciplines) and levels: a rule that Law and its executive, the judicial system, also performs. Individually, the "N" and "U" are downward- and upward-facing respectively, symbolising polar (and complementary) outlooks through which Law threads its way. The extension of "L" or Law to the last level (or layer) attempts to encapsulate the concerns of social justice. The emphasis is on the rule of Law (represented by the 'L') in promoting social justice, particularly targeting the vulnerable population. Its columnar arrangement suggests an upholding of justice, equality, fraternity and human rights in all their facets in a secular democracy.

The rigorous selection process at our University has been designed to ensure that students of the highest calibre are admitted and trained in a holistic manner, so as to engage with ideas and concepts related to law and the arts. It is but quite innate that we have produced a Rhodes Scholar, UPSC and Judicial services toppers amongst our many other achievements.

Over the past four years, I have seen this batch explore its potential by demonstrating extraordinary levels of enthusiasm, dedication and commitment. The Batch of 2019 does not shirk away from challenges; it sets high standards, goes on to surpass them and raises the bar for everyone else.

Our students receive a comprehensive legal education which endows them with crucial analytical skills and empowers them to critically evaluate laws, the functioning of the legal system and the interplay between the legal system and society. The vibrant clinical education programs and seminar courses help our students engage with the legal system through their areas of interest, ensuring that National Law University, Delhi, through the character of its instruction, remains committed to broadening the base of legal education. The diverse interests and backgrounds of these students are reflected in their internship experiences.

They have interned at leading national and international law firms, corporate houses, reputed Non-Governmental Organizations, Public Sector Undertakings, under senior litigators and the higher judiciary. I believe that through these internships, they have gained invaluable exposure which will enable them to enter the professional world. This batch has been instrumental in furthering the reputation of the University by excelling academically as well as in various co-curricular activities such as conferences, moot courts, mediation & negotiation, debates and sports competitions. The erudite students of this batch strive to be responsible legal professionals, which I trust will make them loyal and committed members of your organization. I invite you to National Law University, Delhi to interact with the students of the Batch of 2019. Their presence has enriched the University and I am confident that they will positively contribute to the growth of not just the legal profession, but of the nation as a whole.

I take immense pride in presenting the Batch of 2019. I feel proud and content in presenting the students of this batch, who are capable in all respects to shoulder the complex professional responsibilities in this demanding profession. I am sure that the rigorous entry mechanisms followed by National Law University, Delhi coupled with the meticulously designed syllabus have enabled our students to face the challenges in this competitive profession. The Curriculum Development Committee of our University works tirelessly to include latest development in all the fields to equip the students with the relevant knowledge to meet global expectations. The clinical programs at NLU Delhi ensure our students are socially relevant, so that they can give back something to the society.

The University makes available adequate opportunities to the students at different points of time during their five year stay at NLU Delhi for shaping their personalities. These include research projects, moot court exercises, clinical exercises, legal aid projects and a host of cultural and literary activities on the campus. NLU Delhi's impressive performance on the mooting circuit at the national and the global level has put this University at a higher pedestal than its contemporaries.

National Law University, Delhi has a good number of overseas collaborations with some of the renowned law schools where NLU Delhi students get the opportunity to undergo one semester under a student exchange program. The Batch of 2019 has made great use of the facilities and the opportunities that this University provides to the students and has come up to be a shining light in our University.

I wish all the success to this talented contingent of students!

BATCH OF 2019

Graduating as one of the first few batches of a young University seeking to make its mark comes with its fair share of expectations and responsibilities. The Batch of 2019 of National Law University, Delhi has time and again stood up to and conquered the challenges.

Our class is a healthy mix of students hailing from various parts of India, which adds value to the learning experience that the University provides. It provides for a more diverse, engaging and enriching academic experience. Being the seventh batch of the University, we have had the opportunity of being both mentees (of seniors) and mentors (to juniors), as well as the chance to spearhead the growth and development of our institution.

The class comprises of students who are not just academically inclined and committed to the highest of scholarly pursuits, but also display a voracious zeal for co-curricular activities such as moot court competitions, debates, negotiation and mediation competitions, Model United Nations (MUN) conferences, and participation in national and international conferences, seminars and courses. Our enthusiasm also extends to sports, where we have won numerous laurels at the national level. We have also had immense international exposure with students from our class having participated in various international moot court competitions, mediation and negotiation competitions and student exchange programs.

Students have also been selected for summer vacation schemes at Herbert Smith Freehills and Linklaters LLP, and have been part of courses taught by renowned faculty from Harvard University, Oxford University, Cornell University, and University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Apart from having gained valuable experience and professional skills while being associated with notable advocates, law firms, corporate houses, think tanks, and non-governmental organizations, we have also been instilled with a sense of social responsibility and have been working under various research projects like the Death Penalty Research Project, in collaboration with NALSA, the Tihar Jail Project and several initiatives under the umbrella of the Centre for Communication Governance. We have also been actively involved as research assistants for some of our professors, which involve a wide array of exposure, from empirical field work to doctrinal research.

The Batch of 2019 has seen immense personal and professional growth through its journey at this University, attributable, in no small part, to the University itself and the infrastructure, mentorship and opportunities it works so hard to provide for its students. As we near the end of this journey, our earnest hope is that this growth shines through to you. We hope you will enjoy acquainting yourself with our batch as much as we have enjoyed our own development over the past four years. We look forward to interacting with you.

Mr. Daniel Mathew (Assistant Professor, Law), Taught ADR and Investment Arbitration:

It was an enriching experience engaging with the Batch of 2019, whom I had the opportunity of observing both in academic and non-academic settings. I taught them courses on Alternate Dispute Resolution and Investment Arbitration. Given their class performance and interactions I found them to be a committed, motivated and vibrant set of individuals, who imbibe a high level of intellectual curiosity. They have also contributed in equal measure to the corporate life on campus. Their ability to stay focused, remain motivated and work as a team makes them a valuable asset to any organization.

Dr Ruhi Paul (Associate Professor, Law), Taught Civil Procedure Code and ADR: “I had a very enriching experience while teaching the batch of 2019. I have witnessed the overall performance of the batch getting better with each passing year of their stay at the National Law University, Delhi. This is a very focused batch of students not only in academic and research activities but also other extra and co-curricular activities. Students of this batch are very well – mannered, hardworking, dedicated, professional and disciplined. I am sure, with all these qualities, each and every student of Batch of 2019 will be a valuable asset to any Institution that they will join.

Dr Arul George Scaria (Assistant Professor, Law), Taught Intellectual Property Rights and Seminar on CopyrightX:

I have had the opportunity of teaching the Batch of 2019. Having taught all of them the mandatory IP survey course and some of them a comparative copyright law seminar course titled 'Copyright X: NLUD' (offered in collaboration with Harvard Law School), I find most of the students in the batch to be keen learners. During the many interactions I had with them, I could also see strong commitment to social justice issues, particularly access to knowledge. My best wishes are with them.

FACULTY SPEAKS

Prof. Anil Kumar Rai (Professor, Law), Taught Banking Law:

I have had the occasion to teach the Batch of 2019 Banking Law and Negotiable Instruments. A tight knit group, with such a wide range of interests would be difficult to come across. Enthusiastic and jovial bunch of students that this batch consists of, in their own unassuming way and never say die spirit, these kids have much to be proud of. The least that I can say is that they would be an asset to any organization.

Dr. Aparna Chandra (Assistant Professor, Law), Taught Constitutional Law –I:

“I've had the privilege of teaching Constitutional Law to the Batch of 2019. I found members of this class very thoughtful, engaged, and hardworking. They have made good use of the extensive opportunities available to students of this university, and have honed their lawyering skills by participating in a range of extra- and co-curricular activities. I am confident that they have very bright futures ahead of them, and wish them all the very best in putting their education to productive use!”
