

National Law University Delhi

RESEARCH ENDEAVOUR GRANT (N-REG) 2025-26

National Law University Delhi has instituted a research grant programme that seeks to provide two annual research grants of Rs. 5 lakhs per annum each to academics and researchers based in any Indian institution/ organisation. There are no limitations on the current field of work in which applicants are engaged and neither are there limitations on the themes or areas of study, as long as the research proposals engage with law/ legal institutions/ legal cultures/ legal policy through doctrinal/ empirical/ socio-legal/ social science methods. Proposals that seek to employ STEM research methods are also encouraged provided the proposal at its core furthers perspectives to better understand the law/ legal institutions/ legal cultures/ legal policy.

Program Objective:

This research grant programme aims to develop high quality research that delivers a deeper understanding of law/ legal institutions/ legal cultures/ legal policy on their own terms as well as through interaction with other fields. The University's endeavour is to promote innovative research projects that contribute to the advancement of legal scholarship as well as interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary scholarship that has significant bearing on law/ legal institutions/ legal cultures/ legal policy. The proposals may focus on studying and understanding complex challenges through purely legal scholarship or by leveraging interdisciplinary/ multidisciplinary approaches.

Online Application Form and Deadline:

- Applications must be submitted through the online application form.
- The deadline for applications is 5:00 pm on 25th August 2025 (Monday).
